WHY

should you test your water?

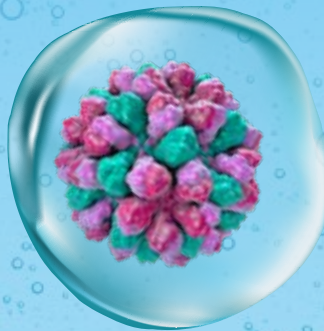

Water is the second most important thing in our lives (after air) and it is important that it is safe to drink, our health depends on it.

Not all water is safe to drink, our rural water supplies are at a higher risk of contamination.

Common issues include those that are a nuisance (e.g. they cause staining or taste problems) such as hardness, iron or manganese. As well as those which may pose a risk to your health, like bacteria, viruses and parasites. These can be dangerous and cause illness. You may have heard of some of them including E. coli, Campylobacter, Salmonella and Norovirus.

People who are most at risk are children, older people, those who are immunocompromised, those who are pregnant/recently given birth or those who are very stressed.
